WORKSHOP (Session 2021-22)

Topic : RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

Introduction :

Keeping pace with the fast changes in the field of higher education, the institution has concentrated its focus on its three activities-Teaching-learning, Extension and Research. While the teachers and non-teaching staff members are encouraged for participation in faculty development and professional development activities respectively, attempts are made to involve more and more students in research activities on parallel level. To provide the theoretical information about genuine research the institution conducts the classes of Research Methodology regularly for the students of the last year of the degree programme. The institution also conducts workshops on Research Methodology twice in an academic session. In the session 2021-22 two workshops on Research Methodology were conducted. The first workshop, entitled 'What is Genuine Research?' was held on 30.10.2021.

Objectives of the Workshops :

1. To orient the students on 'What is Research?' in general and 'What is Genuine Research?' in particular.
2. To orient the students on 'How to identify / select the topic of research.'
3. To orient the students on the use of Research Methodology during research.

Workshop : ‘What is Genuine Research?’

Resource Persons : Dr J P Deshmukh

Dr J P Deshmukh, Research supervisor and senior faculty, Dept., of Commerce in the college, oriented the students on the topic ‘What is Genuine Research?’ in detail. He explained the concept of research. He then illustrated the steps in research like- selection of research topic / identification of problem, collection of primary and secondary sources, Reviewing the previous research on the topic of research or related topic/s, preparing synopsis of the proposed research work, to be submitted to the approving agency, sampling, preparing questionnaire, data collection, tabulation, bringing out conclusions and solutions, etc. He deliberated on plagiarism. He also answered the questions, raised by the attendees.

Prin. Dr Shankar Kukreja inaugurated the workshop and delivered presidential address. He appealed the students to pursue genuine research and seek the funding agencies.

Dr. V G Chavhan Coordinated the event. All the regular students of the third year of Degree programme attended the workshop.

No. of Participants- 106 students participated

Outcome – Students understood the concept of research and steps of genuine research procedure.
